Protect Yourself with a Flu Shot

Flu season is coming soon, and getting a flu shot is one of the best ways to help keep yourself and your family healthy. The flu can make you very sick, but a flu shot can lower your chance of getting the flu and help prevent serious illness.

Flu shots are covered by BadgerCare Plus, so there is no cost to you. You can get a flu shot at your doctor's office, a clinic, or many local pharmacies. Talk with your doctor or visit a nearby pharmacy to learn more. Schedule your flu shot today and help protect yourself this flu season. To learn more about the flu shot and other vaccines, visit our website!

National Food is Medicine Day: Healthy Food Helps

This September, we celebrate National Food is Medicine Day. Healthy food helps our bodies stay strong. It can help people feel better and stay healthy.

At Chorus Community Health Plans (CCHP), we help members get healthy food and nutrition support.

Medically Tailored Meals Program

Some BadgerCare Plus members may be able to get free healthy meals through CCHP's Medically Tailored Meals Program (MTM).

You may qualify if you:

- Are pregnant or recently had a baby and have special health needs
- Have diabetes and recently left the hospital
- Have heart disease and recently left the hospital

Free Nutrition Help with Foodsmart

CCHP partners with Foodsmart to give free nutrition help to eligible members.

Foodsmart can help you:

- Talk with a dietitian
- Find healthy recipes
- Plan meals
- Learn how to eat healthy and save money

The Facts

Foodsmart is a great resource for our members and the statistics show it.

- 47% of our members who have worked with FoodSmart experienced weight loss.
- 38% of our members who said they were food insecure before working with Foodsmart, became more food secure after working with Foodsmart.

Join Foodsmart today:

- Visit cchp.zipongo.com
- Download the Foodsmart app
- Call 888-837-5325

Additional Community Food Resources

There are programs across Wisconsin that can help you find and access healthy food.

- Call 211 or visit 211 Wisconsin to find food pantries and meal programs.
- FoodShare Wisconsin \(SNAP\) helps eligible families buy food.
- WIC helps eligible pregnant women, new moms, babies and young children get healthy food.
- Local food banks, like Feeding America Eastern Wisconsin and Hunger Task Force, offer free food and fresh produce.

Access to Care Management

Our Care Management team helps our members who have challenging health and social needs. These can make it hard for them to be as healthy and happy as they can be. We are here to support them on their journey to better health and wellness.

Care Management can help assist with:

- providing educational materials about a health condition or disease
- helping with medication management
- ensuring you are speaking with the right doctor
- scheduling appointments
- getting access to community resources
- setting health and wellness goals

Programs are free, voluntary and member-centered. To learn more call (414) 266-3173.

CCHP's health programs are opt-out programs. If you meet program specific criteria and have current CCHP coverage you are automatically enrolled, this means we may reach out to you with services that might support you.

If you are looking for support or to access one of our care managers please call 414-266-3173 or email us at healthpromotion@chorushealthplans.org.

To learn more on our programs, eligibility, or to opt out visit our website.

Changes to Work Requirements

Starting in 2027, some BadgerCare Plus members may need to meet new work requirements to keep their health coverage. These changes are part of a new federal law. Not all members will be affected.

Members who are affected may be able to meet the requirements through work, school, job training or other approved activities. Some members may qualify for an exemption.

Community Events - Recap

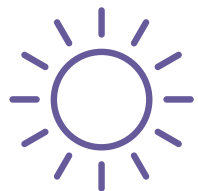

A Successful Summer of Nutrition and Wellness

In August, we celebrated the final Nutrition in the Neighborhoods event of the season. With the support of Chorus Community Health Plans and other community partners, more than 3,000 healthy meals were distributed this summer, along with valuable health and wellness resources for Milwaukee families.

Thank you to everyone who helped make this program possible. Together, we're building healthier communities and creating meaningful impact for local families.

Summer Event Recap

This summer, CCHP connected with thousands of community members at events throughout southeastern Wisconsin, including PrideFest, Juneteenth, Mexican Fiesta, health fairs, farmers markets, and back-to-school events. We shared health resources, program information, health screenings, and fun activities for families.
